

Values, Morals, Behavior, & Character

The Stairway to Character

Values: what I think is most important (e.g., honesty, responsibility, financial stability, health, family, fairness, dignity).

The Stairway to Character

Morals (rules): simple right/wrong rules that come from my values (e.g., “Tell the truth,” “Keep promises,” “Live within your budget,” “Credit others for their work”).

Values: what I think is most important (e.g., honesty, responsibility, financial stability, health, family, fairness, dignity).

The Stairway to Character

Behavior: one action in one moment (e.g., “I admitted an error to a client today”).

Morals (rules): simple right/wrong rules that come from my values (e.g., “Tell the truth,” “Keep promises,” “Live within your budget,” “Credit others for their work”).

Values: what I think is most important (e.g., honesty, responsibility, financial stability, health, family, fairness, dignity).

The Stairway to Character

Character: a pattern of actions over time, especially when it is hard or when no one is watching (e.g., “I consistently keep confidences and meet deadlines”)

Behavior: one action in one moment (e.g., “I admitted an error to a client today”).

Morals (rules): simple right/wrong rules that come from my values (e.g., “Tell the truth,” “Keep promises,” “Live within your budget,” “Credit others for their work”).

Values: what I think is most important (e.g., honesty, responsibility, financial stability, health, family, fairness, dignity).

The Stairway to Character

Character: a pattern of actions over time, especially when it is hard or when no one is watching (e.g., “I consistently keep confidences and meet deadlines”)

Behavior: one action in one moment (e.g., “I admitted an error to a client today”).

Morals (rules): simple right/wrong rules that come from my values (e.g., “Tell the truth,” “Keep promises,” “Live within your budget,” “Credit others for their work”).

Values: what I think is most important (e.g., honesty, responsibility, financial stability, health, family, fairness, dignity).

Actions and experiences can also change our rules and values over time.

How to tell the difference...

Character: a pattern of actions over time, especially when it is hard or when no one is watching (e.g., “I consistently keep confidences and meet deadlines”)

Behavior: one action in one moment (e.g., “I admitted an error to a client today”).

Morals (rules): simple right/wrong rules that come from my values (e.g., “Tell the truth,” “Keep promises,” “Live within your budget,” “Credit others for their work”).

Values: what I think is most important (e.g., honesty, responsibility, financial stability, health, family, fairness, dignity).

Actions and experiences can also change our rules and values over time.

"The true measure of your character is what you do when nobody's watching"

Charles Caleb Colton
English Author & Clergyman
(1780 - 1832)

"The true measure of your character is what you do when nobody's watching"

When has your character been tested?

Charles Caleb Colton
English Author & Clergyman
(1780 - 1832)